LINKING MOBILITY SOLUTIONS

Further is where humans go. To get there, we must go together.

We are the IRF, the world's leading think tank on mobility and road safety. Since our creation, we have enabled people, companies and institutions to take action and drive the world forward.

To us, mobility is a human right. We believe in roads that think for themselves, autonomous public transportation and innovative infrastructures that make for a smarter ride and a better life.

The issues we all face today are too complex to be tackled alone. Great challenges require greater collaborations. We do not have the answers to everything yet - but we do have the platform: CROSSROADS.

CROSSROADS is the global platform to facilitate the cross-pollination of ideas amongst pioneers, businesses and organisations. By connecting high-tech companies, leading experts in the field and governments together, we can make mobility a positive reality for everyone.

We invite you to CROSSROADS - the IRF World Road Meeting 2017.

The world is changing fast, and the world of mobility is changing faster still: only the disrupters will be safe from disruption. Join us as we change the conversation and co-create the future.
